

Petrol and diesel price decrease for May 2021

 By Imran Salie

30 Apr 2021

Motorists can expect a slight relief for the month of May. The price of petrol is expected to drop by around 13 cents a litre, with diesel showing a 32 cents a litre drop and illuminating paraffin down by 23 cents.

©Koonsiri Boonnak – 123RF.com

This is according to the Automobile Association (AA), which was commenting on unaudited month-end fuel price data released by the Central Energy Fund.

“Fuel prices have made a turnaround from last month, with across-the-board price reductions in all fuel types expected when the Department of Mineral Resources and Energy announces adjustments for May.

“The exchange rate has continued its pleasing strengthening trend against the US dollar. International petroleum prices, which increased slightly in the first two weeks of April, have held steady since,” said the AA.

As a result, the AA says fuel users are expected to have a breather in May from the series of fuel price increases earlier in the year.

“As we head into winter, South Africans who use paraffin for lighting, cooking, and heating especially will no doubt be glad at this news. For its part, the association is hopeful the recent streak of price stability will continue to provide more price relief to fuel users in the short to medium term,” the AA concluded.

ABOUT IMRAN SALIE

- Bizcommunity Editor: Automotive, Entrepreneurship, Education
- REVIEW: Is the Ford Puma worth its price tag? - 26 Apr 2024
 - New Ford Ranger Platinum and Tremor models hit South Africa's market - 28 Mar 2024
 - Review: The bold and electric Volvo C40 Recharge - 22 Mar 2024
 - REVIEW: The awe-inspiring Ford Ranger Raptor - 6 Mar 2024
 - South Africa's new car sales slump continues into February 2024 - 6 Mar 2024

View my profile and articles...

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>