

SA Tourism's Sho't Left Travel Week kicks off in two weeks

From 23-29 September 2019, South African Tourism's Sho't Left Travel Week kicks off in South Africa offering domestic travellers discounted travel deals with airlines, hotel groups, tour operators and tourist attractions.

Image Supplied.

The campaign encourages South Africans to explore their own backyard and play witness to the beauty that they are surrounded by. Under the campaign positioning: Everything Must Go, Everyone Must Go, Sho't Left Travel Week is a response to the lack of access to travel for all South Africans.

SA Tourism's Sho't Left Travel Week addresses local tourism challenges

16 Aug 2018

"This initiative was designed to give South Africans access, in a bigger better way, by addressing the affordability challenge they face," said Mashoto Mokgethi, head: domestic tourism at South African Tourism.

Deals comprise sunset cruise's on the Knysna Lagoon, a ride on the wild side of the Amathole Mountains and Hogsback Forests and a whale, dolphin and penguin island cruise in Port Elizabeth.

Visit South African Tourism to view deals you can book and travel, with discounted deals up to 50% off.