The 2020 Jazz and Classical Encounters Festival Vol 2 at Spier Amphitheatre, which takes place on Saturday, 28 November 2020, features some of the best South African jazz and classical artists in a feast of contemporary music.

One of the headline acts is Paul Hanmer along with guitarist and singer Neo Muyanga in conversation. They will present brand new material written especially for this festival.

Muyanga is a composer, sound artist and librettist.

His work traverses new opera, jazz improv and African idiomatic songs. He learned indigenous African song in the school choir in Soweto in the 1980s and he sang madrigals while studying in Italy in the '90s.

In 1996, he co-founded, with Masauko Chipembere, the duo, Blk Sonshine. In 2008, he co-founded, with Ntone Edjabe, the Pan-African Space Station - a platform for cutting-edge Pan-African music and sound art on the internet.

He has released nine recorded albums to date - his latest, the oratorio MAKEdbA (2019), explores the status of exile as core to the human condition in the 21st century.

Muyanga tours widely as a solo performer, bandleader and choral conductor.

I caught up with him last week.

■ ■ The new decade means:

More people wide-eyed, mystified by reality.

■ ■ I don't do:

Apples.

■ ■ What does music mean to you?

A simple gift.

■ ■ What is the most enjoyable aspect of your work?
