"We're always looking at ways to add value to our product and service offerings, and with load shedding being such a frequent occurrence lately, we thought that we'd add a little sense of convenience to our customers busy schedules by giving them something useful and apt as a simple gesture of appreciation," said Farishta Singh – group marketing executive at TiAuto Investments.

Additionally, this promotional campaign highlights Continental tyres in all its glory by celebrating the brand as it marks an incredibly important milestone. As a leading tyre manufacturer, Continental has spent decades testing, innovating and revolutionising the tyre industry.

Continuing, Singh adds: "Continental tyres are amongst our best sellers and this year as they commemorate 150 years in the business, we thought it would be a great time to spotlight what makes them such a trusted and popular brand globally."
