

2022 Ad Talent Salary Survey: What are you worth?

Ad Talent has released its latest annual salary survey, reflecting the remuneration information obtained from all candidates interviewed by the company from January 2021 to December 2021.

Through its collected data, the recruitment agency found that Covid-19 and the resultant crisis continued to severely impact employment statistics with a downturn in hiring during 2021. "Employers were cautious about employing new staff with a strong message to maintaining cash flow and consolidating their core business," Ad Talent said in its statement. "We noticed a trend to employ on short term contracts with a view to permanent employment at a later stage. There was a lack of confidence to commit to long term projects with a conservative approach to hiring."

The agency found that this resulted to salary stagnation in most categories with a few exceptions.

"Salary progression in the form of increases was largely on hold with little or no movement and in some instances, salary cuts were applied. We found that many candidates who were previously looking for a career change, put a halt on their search because of the instability in the job market," said the recruiter.

It did however see a slight increase in salaries and more benefits at senior level, and attributed this to the retention of top talent.

As in previous years, Ad Talent's Salary Survey was compiled:

- using figures of actual placements made by Ad Talent
- using figures from salary information obtained from all candidates interviewed by Ad Talent from January 2021 to December 2021
- using figures from salary information obtained from candidates who have submitted their CVs to Ad Talent
- using cost to company (CTC) figures
- using the average salaries per sector

Interpretation:

- Salaries vary significantly depending on many factors, including size of the company, desirability to work for a particular company and status
- Salaries for media sales roles vary significantly depending on the commission structure / incentives
- 0-2 years (light) means 0 to 2 years experience in that particular position and not 0 to 2 years total working experience
- The same applies for medium and heavy weight. It is experience in the particular position and NOT total working experience
- This survey is not intended to be prescriptive, but is a report on what we, Ad Talent, (not the entire industry) has experienced in the past 12 months
