

Mad Magazine ends after 67 years

DC Entertainment will no longer publish American humour magazine Mad Magazine. Mad originally began as a comic book published by EC Comics and by 1955, it had converted to a monthly magazine consisting of a mix of humour and political satire.

“ Oh No! Mad Magazine is shutting down after 67 years...

I'm leaving this planet! pic.twitter.com/VoqOtDapGr- Superman (@SupermanTweets) July 4, 2019 ”

The Hollywood Reporter indicates that issue 10 of the satirical magazine will be the final one to feature new content and it will only be available to purchase at comic book shops as well as mailed to subscribers. Read the full story on Consequence of Sound.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>