

2021 Inma Global Media Awards open for entries

Inma has announced it is accepting entries for next year's Global Media Awards.

The awards, launched in 1937, celebrate excellence in news media since 1937 and in 2021, Inma aims to capture the progress of the news industry's transformation and reinvention, accelerated by the developments of the past year.

Entrants are invited to submit their entries in 20 categories across three segments of media company. The deadline for entries is Friday, 29 January 2021.
