

Domain name registration details to be updated annually

ICANN, the global organisation administering Internet website names, will require every domain name owner to update their contact details annually in a new proposal to be enforced by the end of May. This will increase the accuracy of registration details to make dispute resolution easier.

Source: Internet Magazine

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>