

Emmy nomination for local filmmaker

Cape Town filmmaker Trevor de Kock's documentary City Slickers: A tale of two African penguins has become the first SA television film to be nominated for an International Emmy. The documentary was the most popular programme of the month on Discovery in the US and was re-screened six times in two weeks.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>