

Gap elects interim CEO after Art Peck departure

Business Insider reports that Gap has appointed Robert Fisher as its interim CEO following the departure of Art Peck.

Peck has led Gap as CEO since 2015 and joined the company 15 years ago. The company did not provide a reason for his departure.

Read more on this story here.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>