

No jobs advertised by Defence Force

The South African National Defence Force (SANDF) has noted false advertisements that have been circulating on social media on the recruitment of new members for the Military Skills Development System (MSDS).

The SANDF said it has not issued any advertisement with regards to the recruitment of new members yet.

The advertisement for 2018 recruitment will be published in the Sunday newspapers on 21 January 2018 and in the Daily Sun newspaper on Monday, 22 January 2018.

Furthermore, the SANDF neither sells application forms nor uses recruitment agencies in its recruitment processes.
