

Walter Haese named Embury Institute Montana campus head

Embury Institute for Higher Education has appointed Walter Haese as the head of the new its Montana campus in Pretoria.

Haese joins Embury with more than 21 years of private higher education experience, most of which were spent in a management position. As head of the campus, Haese is responsible for the overall management and decision-making at the Montana campus.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>