

Mr. Gay South Africa 2010

The central regional finals of Mr. Gay South Africa was held at Durban View Guest House on 24 July and was hosted by Dave McNaught, local attorney and co-owner of the guesthouse with his partner Llewellyn Anderson.

The event was attended by supporters from the LGBTI community in Kwazulu-Natal, including Nonhlanhla Mkhize and Anthony Waldhausen of Pietermaritzburg Gay and Lesbian Network, fellow activists, the reigning Miss Gay KZN and members from the community including Mr. Gay South Africa™ sponsor Trevor Kleinhans from Ballito, the directors of Mr. Gay South Africa (Pty) Ltd., Barry Vorster, Hennie Crafford and Coenie Kukuk, who also acted as MC of the event.

Nelson Clemente, singer from Australia, entertained the crowd.

The judges was renowned fashion designer and winner of the best dressed in parade and Me. Mardi Gras titles at the Pink Loerie Mardi Gras, Kevin Ellis; Mr. Gay South Africa 2009 finalist Gavin Deale from Ballito and Sxolile Dleko, a local activist from Durban.

The winner won prizes in excess of R20 000, including a R6 000 bursary from Official Learning Partner, College SA, a R4000 diamond pendant from Official Jeweller to Mr. Gay South Africa™, CW Design Jewellers, a weekend away at The Glen Boutique Hotel in Cape Town, a voucher from Bone Wear and main prize, a cruise on the MSN Sinfonia to Mozambique from 15 - 19 November, co-sponsored by Mr. Gay South Africa™ and Alternative Travel.

The runner-up, Prince Mkhize from Durban, also won a cruise on the MSN Sinfonia. All three won hampers from Schwarzkopf™, the Official Hair Colour and Styling Partner of Mr. Gay South Africa™ as well as CDs from Sony Music.