

Several new appointments for SAHA

The South African Hockey Association (SAHA) has appointed three new members to its team, namely Mike du Plessis, who was re-elected as president; Marq Roberts who was re-elected as treasurer and Feico Mulder who was newly appointed into the position of executive board member to the rules, technical and education. The rules, technical and education portfolio encompasses all matters relating to umpires, technical officials, umpire education, technical officials education and coaching education.

The elections took place November 2016 at its Annual General Meeting (AGM), led by CEO, Marissa Langeni.
