

Monster Jam to make SA debut with 8 larger-than-life trucks

Monster truck phenomenon Monster Jam will soon make its South African debut with stops across the country. Monster Jam will kick off its tour of SA at the Moses Mabhida Stadium in Durban on 20 April followed by Cape Town Stadium on 27 April and ending at FNB Stadium in Johannesburg on 4 May 2019.

With the best truck lineup assembled for an international stadium performance, the show will feature eight of the world's most famous Monster Jam trucks including Monster Jam World Finals champions Grave Digger and Max-D, providing an unforgettable experience for the entire family. Monster Energy, Gas Monkey Garage, Megalodon, Zombie, El Toro Loco and Monster Mutt Dalmatian join the spectacular that takes place on specially-designed tracks that optimise mobility so the most recognisable trucks in the world can go head to head in wheelies, donuts, obstacle course racing and freestyle competitions pushing the Monster Jam trucks to their limits.

The 2019 Monster Jam season sees trained, world-class international male and female athletes battle it out for supremacy on the track. They have mastered not only the physical strength and mental stamina needed to compete but the vital dexterity to control 4,500kg machines capable of doing backflips, vertical two-wheel skills and racing at speeds of up to 110km per hour to produce jaw-dropping, live motorsports action seen around the world.

first-ever Monster Jam female crew chief

El Toro Loco is one raging bull who can the smell fear of its competitors. Driver Becky McDonough is one of the outstanding female Monster Jam drivers and the first-ever Monster Jam female crew chief who also holds the 2013 Arena Wheelie of the Year title. Don't be fooled by the cute ears, tongue and tail of Monster Mutt Dalmatian, the Monster Jam truck driven by fellow female driver Candice Jolly. This "puppy" is ferocious on the track.

Look out for Bari Musawwir as the ever popular Zombie comes back from the afterworld to rev up the competition while Monster Jam veteran, BJ Johnson drives Gas Monkey Garage based on the garage made famous in Discovery Channel's hit television show, Fast N' Loud. Driven by Charles Pauken, Grave Digger is one of the most decorated Monster Jam trucks in the world producing championship-winning racing. Possibly the fastest machine in the sport, Max-D is driven by Colton Eichelberger, but the title of the most menacing looking Monster Jam truck must surely go to Megaladon, driven by Chad Tingler. Steven Sims drives Monster Energy, the machine that represents a high-profile product with power, drive and, of course, loads of energy.

Monster Jam is also known for its pre-show Pit Party, giving the crowd unprecedented access to the stars of the show. Fans can meet their favourite drivers, get up close to each Monster Jam truck, participate in a variety of fun activities and purchase official Monster Jam merchandise such as flags, t-shirts and hats to show support for their favourite truck, team and driver.
