

The Automotive Industry Development Centre

The Automotive Industry Development Centre (AIDC) is a government-owned private service provider company that provide the best practice solutions in facilitating government and industry strategic initiatives and implementing related projects.

The AIDC serves the South African automotive industry, government departments and government agencies on a national basis with the aim to:

- grow the SA automotive industry's global competitiveness;
- support the government's automotive-related objectives; and
- to contribute to the government's and industry's goals of continuous growth and sustainable job creation

For more information, go to www.aidc.co.za.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>