

2020 Cape Town International Jazz Fest general access tickets on sale

The Cape Town International Jazz Festival (CTIJF) will return - for the 21st time - on 27 and 28 March 2020.

The award-winning jazz festival will be celebrating 21 years of bringing the best of jazz to the Mother City at the Cape Town International Convention Centre (CTICC).

Image supplied by CTIJF and espAfrika

“Over 20 unforgettable years, we have brought artists of only the highest calibre to Cape Town. With our experience in providing a platform for jazz excellence, festival goers can expect an unforgettable celebration with only the finest performances at the 2020 festival.

“...we will continue to bring the very best talent to Cape Town for our 21st celebration,” says festival director Billy Domingo.

In celebration of this landmark, CTIJF is rewarding loyal attendees with a reduction in ticket prices. Festival-goers will save R291 on a two-day weekend pass in comparison to 2019 prices and R201 on a one-day pass.

General access tickets for the 2020 festival are available at Computicket.

For more information, contact Samantha Pienaar on 021 671 0506 or email hospitality@espafrika.com. Alternatively, visit www.capetownjazzfest.com/hospitality.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>