

Earlybird tickets for South Africa Bike Festival announced

On Monday, 25 January 2016 at 9am, ticket sales will be launching for the first ever South Africa Bike Festival, powered by Discovery Channel, held at the newly rejuvenated Kyalami Grand Prix Circuit in Gauteng.

From Friday 27 May to Sunday 29 May 2016, Kyalami will open its gates to over 20,000 visitors for three days of fun-filled live music and entertainment, new adventures, leisure pursuits and all things engine, petrol and motorcycling.

Those who act fast have the opportunity to secure 50% off their tickets for a limited time only. From 25 January to 29 February, a limited early-bird campaign will be launching alongside a sneak-peak into some of the features visitors can expect to see, test, ride, try and buy over the festival weekend. Visitors are encouraged to use promo code "PRSABF50" to save 50% when booking online through southafricabikefestival.com. The promo code can also be used by calling the booking number 086 1000 291.

Nicole Muller, portfolio director at Clarion Events adds: "Our long term aim in creating this event will be to drive awareness to a potential new target audience each year and create a sustainable, annual and internationally recognised brand that will bring together the experienced and the young motivators to encourage and grow a new generation of motorcyclists in South Africa and beyond."

Tickets can be booked from Monday 25 January at 09.00 via www.southafricabikefestival.com/iTickets.co.za or by calling the iTickets hotline 086 1000 291.

Event updates and more information can be found on the website, alternatively through most social media channels: Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

For more event details click here.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>