

Lebo Sekhotla wins international university award, first African to do so

On 10 June 2015, Lebo Sekhotla was awarded the international 'Here for Good' Award for youth empowerment work at a gala dinner in Miami, Florida, attended by higher education leaders and dignitaries including Condoleezza Rice. There is only one such award annually from hundreds of entries from 90 universities all over the globe, she is the first student in Africa to win this award.

Original Article

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>