

Webber Wentzel welcomes 2019 with 3 new partners

To kick off 2019 in full swing, law firm Webber Wentzel has appointed Lize Louw, Mzukisi Kota and Gillian Niven as its new partners.

Louw, who joins from ENSafrica, will focus on employment law issues and specialises in collective and individual labour law.

Kota re-joined Webber Wentzel from Herbert Smith Freehills and is a specialist on regulatory issues and complex energy and infrastructure projects.

Niven from Renergen Limited is an environmental lawyer with a wealth of environmental regulatory experience who is highly regarded for her expertise in the projects field.
