

TNPA makes staffing adjustments at CT, Saldanha ports

Following the resignations of port managers in the Eastern and Western Cape, the Transnet National Ports Authority has made some staffing changes. Mpumi Dweba, formerly Ngqura port manager, will now work as the manager of the Cape Town port while captain Vernal Jones will take over from Willem Roux as the Saldanha port manager.

Mossel Bay port manager Tandi Lebakeng will now be working as Dweba's replacement in Ngqura. Alvin Singama will be working in an acting capacity in the now vacant East London and Mossel Bay port manager positions.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>