

Cheetah Plains Private Game Reserve re-opens after renovations

The traditional style safari lodge, Cheetah Plains Private Game Reserve re-opened its doors on 6 August after being closed for renovations. Cheetah Plains was built over 30 years ago and is situated in the north of the Sabi Sand Private Game Reserve.

The safari experience at Cheetah Plains offers close encounters with abundant wildlife. It is a nostalgic glimpse into living in the bush, where meals are enjoyed around a lively camp fire while the sounds of the African bush seduce you into abandoning city life forever.

The owners wanted to retain the original essence of the lodge so they focussed on enhancing and emphasising the elements that make Cheetah Plains such a special place. Fresh, vibrant African colours were also added to the traditional safari décor for a subtle contemporary fusion.

An ultimate relaxation experience

Cheetah Plains prides itself on giving guests the ultimate relaxation experience and accordingly has created comfortable spaces where guests can unwind between drives and meals. Taking in the sights on loungers overlooking the waterhole or on the upstairs deck or flipping through a novel at the freshly tiled swimming pool are sure ways to bask in sheer pleasure.

The lodge has six standard rooms, which are comfortable and homely and equipped with an en suite bathroom, including a shower. The two luxury rooms are a bit bigger and both have an en suite bathroom as well as an outdoor shower is the perfect place to start your morning.

With 8 500 hectares of land to traverse, the renowned Sabi Sand Game Reserve offers visitors an unforgettable animal viewing experience. The reserve is famous for its teeming wildlife and beautiful birds, but also the regular sightings of Africa's big cats - most notably leopard.
