

Tow truck drivers use their 67 minutes to distribute blankets

For their 67 minutes for Nelson Mandela International Day on 18 July 2018, Firstassist, First Road Emergency, and Help24 tow truck drivers distributed 3,000 blankets to people in need in Johannesburg.

The recipients of the blankets include Thomas, who lives in a shack along President Fouche Drive; Masesi from the Makause Squatter Camp, children at Sinethemba Day Care in Primrose on the East Rand; Soloman from Zeerust and Bramley who lives under the Gordon Road bridge in the West Rand.
