

Ban lifted on fresh ostrich meat exports

By Glenneis Kriel

11 Aug 2015

By the end of August, South African producers will again be able to export fresh ostrich meat to the EU.

ABA63 via pixabay.com

Exports were banned following a break-out of highly pathogenic avian influenza four years ago. Since then the industry has implemented numerous measures to prevent future outbreaks and has also started exporting cooked ostrich meat.

Read the full story on Farmer's Weekly.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>