

Comtel Communications launches Unlimited Calling fixed line product

Comtel Communications, a Cape Town based telecommunications company, has launched Unlimited Calling, a fixed-line product for both residential and business clients. This new offering is an addition to the company's services that include fibre and wireless connectivity, hosted PBX and VoIP, and rolling out open access fibre networks into multi-tenant developments and neighbourhoods. As the name suggests, clients are able to make as many calls as they like during a month at a fixed cost.
