Kevin Swanepoel, CEO of The One Club for Creativity, commented:

“ The quality of jurors is a hallmark of The One Show and ADC Annual Awards. Top tier creatives from South Africa have long served on our juries, and this latest group represent some of the country's leading creative thinkers and doers. They will judge work through the lens of creativity of ideas and quality execution, and use our robust judging platform featuring proprietary, state-of-the-art voting and scoring technology. ”

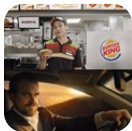

For the first time this year, The One Show will accept submissions for the coveted Green Pencil, recognising excellence in environmentally-conscious advertising and design. In past years, the award was purely based on nominations.
