As AMASA grows rapidly year on year, it becomes a bigger imperative for the governing body to add more focus on celebrating and sharing high standards of work, innovation, executions, trends and strategy within the media and advertising industry. Therefore this year, AMASA is proud to announce the first ever AMASA Awards.

The AMASA Awards will celebrate 'all-rounder' media campaigns; ones which are based on sound insights, underpinned by great ideas, followed through with perfectly executed strategy to achieve outstanding and measurable results - all the while celebrating INNOVATION!

Why the new format?

Wayne Bischoff, AMASA's Jo'burg chairman, explains: "The new format of the AMASA Awards has been created to not only launch a larger celebration of industry work but also to build on the famous Roger Garlick Awards from previous years to include new categories for entry. The industry is fast changing to include new media formats and AMASA wants to reflect these innovations with our award categories. We encourage all media agencies, strategists, creative agencies, marketers and media owners in the media industry to start formulating their great entries."

The AMASA Awards entries are now open as the association calls out to all media practitioners countrywide to show off their best work implemented between 1 July 2013 - 30 June 2014* in order to inspire the industry as a whole and give their media ideas and campaigns a longer shelf life.

The new awards format hosts 20 new categories and will include the Roger Garlick Grand Prix which will be awarded to the best work presented overall. The winner of the Roger Garlick Grand Prix will have their work submitted into the international Festival of Media Awards sponsored by AMASA. The Ignition Award introduced in 2013, which is aimed at students' work, will remain a segment of the new AMASA Awards.
