Jacquie, previously editor of VISI magazine, ELLE South Africa, Food and Home Entertaining and Style magazine, is a media consultant and specialist in all things lifestyle-related.

"Her experience at VISI as well as her knowledge of the contemporary design and media landscape makes Jacquie the perfect editor to take Leading Architecture and Design into a new era," says Sandra Ladas, Publishing Manager at New Media.

Jacquie said she looked forward to showcasing the unique talents of South African architects and designers on the multimedia platform of Leading Architecture and Design.

"South Africa and our talented designers are starting to attract much global attention, and it's therefore important that Leading Architecture and Design develops into a showcase for our local and international audience," she said.
