Calling all graduates, applications are now open for the 2021 Dentsu SA Paid Internship Programme.

The full-time Dentsu internship programme is designed to provide a variety of development opportunities through experiential learning on the job, self-development and guidance through mentorship. We are proud to work in partnership with some of South Africa's best colleges and universities, to offer employment and learning opportunities to students.

So you're graduating. Congratulations! But, now what?

Dentsu 16 Nov 2017

After a six-month evaluation of performance and capability, we seek to retain our successful interns by appointing them into permanent roles where there is a suitable job match and opportunities across the region.

A key focus at Dentsu SA is attracting top talent at early stages of their careers. To date, a total of 65 interns have been onboarded into the programme with an impressive 77% absorption rate. We pride ourselves on offering practical and comprehensive skills to our interns and we are committed to building future leaders.

Part 1: Transformation in action; a Dentsu story

Dentsu 3 May 2021

This is evident in the growth and development of our previous interns who currently hold permanent positions within the agency.

Kayla Draai, former intern and current ad ops analyst at Amplifi (a Dentsu agency), says: “The Dentsu internship programme was an amazing opportunity for me as it kick started my career in digital advertising. Very few graduates get the opportunity to work in the industry they’re qualified in. In my situation, after I graduated with a degree in media, communications and culture, I got a job in sales and eventually got my foot in the door through this internship programme.

Despite getting paid, which is essential in this tough economic climate, Dentsu affords employees amazing skills development tools that allow you to learn and grow within your field and the media industry as whole. The people at Dentsu are golden, all are experts in their fields with a wealth of knowledge that you can always tap into.

The internship programme has laid the foundation and allowed me to feel confident in managing big brands and building quality relationships with both publishers and clients myself.”
