

Introducing the Rand Show Spring Edition

Issued by Rand Show

5 Aug 2021

Same show, different venue, and an awesome lineup of activities and entertainment!

After missing two consecutive years of the show, The Rand Show finally returns to bring the entertainment that South Africa has been yearning for. Due to the current restrictions, the show will be done a little differently to ensure the safety of our visitors.

Rand Show has partnered with Fourways Mall to host the all-new Spring Edition which will be held at the end of September 2021. The event will be held inside Fourways Mall, adhering to strict Covid-19 protocols. This will be a six-day family fun spectacle that includes entertainment, exhibition, and activities for people of all age groups. The show will offer a variety of fresh and exciting activations with a diverse entertainment programme for each day. Do not miss out! The Rand Show Spring Edition promises to be big enough to ensure a top-class visitor experience and deliver value to our exhibiting brands, yet small enough to fit within Covid regulations in a safe and controlled environment.

Based on the event location, the show aimed to attract visitors primarily from Fourways, and its surrounding communities, i.e. Dainfern, Bryanston, and Diepsloot. However, after testing the market and receiving such positive feedback - we have now extended our targeted reach as far as Pretoria and the East Rand.

The show will offer on a smaller and safer scale, everything you know and love from the Rand Show! From food to fun, there will be something for everyone!

With amazing activities and engaging shows for the whole family, the show is expected to be just the perfect time out that people are desperate for. A few stands and sponsorship opportunities are still available for businesses wishing to exhibit and participate at the show.
