Issued by Topco Media

22 Mar 2023

Inside this edition:

The month of March celebrates Human Rights and it was our privilege to interview our front cover icon, servant-leader, Government Pensions Administration Agency CEO, Kedibone Madiehe, whose focus on improving performance is done with the knowledge that working in the public sector is about service: “It’s important to be humble. That’s number one. Be a servant-leader and let’s all be accountable. As a government component, we’re also responsible for directly and indirectly achieving the goals in the National Development Plan 2030. We are also responsible for the achievement of the medium-term strategic framework and its priorities. We must never forget that we are contributing towards the greater goals of the National Development Plan, which is to eradicate the triple challenge of unemployment, inequality and poverty,” - Kedibone Madiehe.

In this bumper edition of Public Sector Leaders, we unpack the budget speech and take a very interesting look at the percentage of women heads of State in Africa and the rest of the world.
