

Scan Display reaches new heights on Kilimanjaro

Scan Display reached the top of Africa (5 895m above sea level) when the team's account executive, Kylie Shaw, summited Kilimanjaro on 6 August.

Scan's adventure girl, Kylie, says that the experience was one of the most amazing of her life: "The experience has taught me that you can achieve anything you put your mind to."

Kylie applies this thinking very successfully to her role as account executive in Scan's Durban branch. Since joining Scan in January 2008, she has worked on exhibition stands, displays and events for clients including Tag Promotions, ECHO Events, The Office of the Premier: KZN, Thanda Group, Slinx Consultants, Spring Light Gas and Southern Spoor.

Prior to joining Scan Kylie spent two years at an events company organising conferences and exhibitions for international conferences.

Kylie is a real asset to Scan's KwaZulu Natal team. Well done, Kylie, on your achievement!
