

Bill Kolb to succeed Harris Diamond as McCann's CEO

Adweek reports that Bill Kolb is replacing Harris Diamond as the CEO of McCann. Diamond is retiring at the end of the year after nearly a decade as CEO of the group.

Kolb, who was named chief operating officer of the global agency network in June, is a McCann veteran who has held a number of positions at the IPG-owned network throughout his career. Prior to becoming chief operating officer, he served as global president of diversified agencies at McCann.

Read the full story here.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>