

Asite appoints new chief marketing officer

Asite has announced the appointment of Kyle Hamer as its new chief marketing officer. Hamer will head the global marketing and communications team from Houston offices.

Hamer has over 20 years of experience in driving revenue growth and leading global market expansions for SaaS companies and start-ups, including marketing leadership positions for OnCenter Software and ConstructConnect in the Contech space.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>