Now in their fourth year, the AGF Service Providers Awards are designed to recognise and reward companies that excel at providing services to the African asset management industry.

AGF provides complete coverage and analysis of the key players in the African investment space, which encompasses those managing assets in traditional and alternative asset classes.

The Alexander Forbes Manager Watch surveys are performance surveys that showcase the performance and risk statistics of institutional fund managers in South Africa and have been published since 1994.

It is the only investment survey provider that publishes a survey for all the major asset classes in South Africa.
