

New Audi A3 launch in South Africa

With 63,000 units delivered, the Audi A3 has made a name for itself in the South African market over the past 20 years. Audi is presenting the new A3 in four new colours as both a sportback and a sedan.

The Audi A3 now combines a sportier look with an efficient drive. In addition, Audi's successful model series features a digital operating concept and numerous other innovations, the A3 model series will be in dealerships from 1 August 2021 in South Africa.

In South Africa, there will be two engine options at launch, with another option available later in 2021. The entry-level engine is the A3 35 TFSI (1.4 TFSI) with 110kW output. The larger petrol A3 40 TFSI (2.0 TFSI) with 140kW will follow with a seven-speed S tronic transmission.

The new Audi A3 range will officially go on sale from 1 August 2021 at South Africa. Prices range from R561,000 to R810,000 and comes standard with a five-year Audi Freeway
