The tour will coincide with the release of a brand-new Neon Dreams single, Little Dance, the first song off their upcoming album. The single will be released on streaming platforms and radio on Friday, 25 February.

Neon Dreams, consisting of vocalist Frank Kadillac and drummer Adrian Morris, have been living in South Africa since their song Life Without Fantasies went viral here. They followed up the success of the hit song by releasing Say It Out Loud featuring Mthandazo Gatya in 2021. Kadillac and Morris have embraced life in SA, sharing the excitement of life under the African sun on their social media channels.
