

SanParks Air Services appoints Ndabenhle Simelane as chief pilot

The South African National Parks (SanParks) has appointed Ndabenhle Simelane as a chief pilot for SanParks Air Services. Simelane joined SanParks Airwing in Skukuza about a year ago and forged a solid relationship with the Civil Aviation Authority.

SanParks Air Services is part of the newly formed Area Integrity Management unit (AIM) aimed at establishing and better coordinating safety and security within SanParks.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>