

Qwabi Private Game Reserve announces several key hires

Qwabi Private Game Reserve has announced several significant hires for its new lodges in Waterberg. These include the hiring of a general manager to handle the Letamo and Babohi Lodges, two executive chefs and a dedicated sales manager.

Kurt Peter has been appointed as the general manager responsible for overseeing Letamo and Babohi Lodges. Executive chef Dion von Wielligh will lead the food experience at Letamo Lodge, while Karien de Villiers will serve as the executive chef at Babohi Lodge. Nasrin Hoosen has been named the sales manager and will collaborate with the Newmark sales team to secure bookings for the lodges.
