

Salomi Kruger appointed MD of Sage training partner, Applico

The AWCape Group has appointed Salomi Kruger as the new MD of Applico; a Sage Authorised Learning Partner and Delivery Centre that offers training, implementation, and support services for technology products, including solar photovoltaic (PV) systems and Sage business solutions.

Applico offers its services in South Africa, South African Development Community (SADC) countries, and the Middle East.

Before joining Applico, Kruger was a senior training specialist and consultant at Sage Cape Town for nearly a decade, specialising in Excel and business intelligence. Before that, she worked in the finance industry in London for eight years. She holds a BTech in marketing from Nelson Mandela University and is completing a BCom in management accountancy with Unisa.
