The awards celebrate achievements in creating and promoting a more equitable workplace where gender mainstreaming is an uncompromised norm. The awards entries were free of charge and judged by a well-respected panel of adjudicators from across the African continent.

"The awards not only serve to celebrate these champions of gender equality but also share learnings and inspire other businesses and leaders to achieve the same," said Colleen Larsen, chief executive of Business Engage and founder of the Gender Mainstreaming Awards.

The gender mainstreaming champion for 2021 for Africa is EY, while the gender mainstreaming champion for 2021 for Southern Africa award went to Tiger Brands. The gender mainstreaming champion for 2021 East Africa celebrated Kenya Breweries for their gender mainstreaming strides and no champion award was made for West Africa this year.
