

#BeautifulNews: Even a tragic accident couldn't throw this record-breaking athlete off track

Puseletso Mabote bows his head and braces himself. His breath is measured but his determination is at full blast. Competing in the World Para Athletics Junior Championships is a momentous opportunity. Sweat drips from the runner's forehead. The gun fires and Mabote leaps into action. He bolts down the track, crossing the finishing line ahead of the others. It's only after the adrenaline subsides that the 14-year-old realises the enormity of what he's just accomplished.
