

R200m set aside for entrepreneurs to fight Covid-19

As South Africa enters the nation-wide lockdown declared by President Cyril Ramaphosa this week to contain the spread of the Covid-19 pandemic, black entrepreneurs can look forward to funding of between R500,000 and R10 million in concessionary loans to purchase machinery, equipment and raw materials and to fund other working capital requirements for the manufacture and supply of medical masks, sanitisers, dispensers and related healthcare products.

Philisiwe Mthethwa, CEO of National Empowerment Fund (NEF)

Repayment holiday for black entrepreneurs

“In partnership with the Department of Trade, Industry and Competition (the dtic) the National Empowerment Fund (NEF) will facilitate funding for black entrepreneurs to manufacture and supply a range of medical products to help the country flatten the curve of this deadly global virus.

“A total R200 million has been set aside for the purpose, and once disbursed black entrepreneurs will be accorded a 12-month repayment holiday to help their businesses stabilize. The loans will be offered at 0% interest for the first year and thereafter at 2.5% per annum. The loans will be repayable over a maximum term of 60 months. This is in line with the NEF’s mandate as a development financier to champion inclusive growth while responding innovatively to the challenges facing the country,” explains Philisiwe Mthethwa, NEF CEO.

Track-record in funding healthcare and manufacturing

The NEF, which to date has approved funding in excess of R10 billion for black entrepreneurs across all sectors of the economy including healthcare and manufacturing, has dedicated teams of seasoned investment professionals to help expedite approval for eligible black entrepreneurs and to ensure a total two weeks from application to disbursement, following receipt of all relevant documents for commercially viable applications.

The NEF says targeted entrepreneurs are those businesses already registered as suppliers with retailers and other institutions in good standing, as well as those that have a purchase order, a contract or letter of intent with a credible entity. The priority product and service list encompasses the following:

| Products to be funded for black entrepreneurs to fight COVID-19 |                     |                                       |                             |
|---|---------------------|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Hand sanitisers   | Disinfectants       | Hand soaps                            | Medical protective clothing |
| Disposable plastic gloves                                       | Facial masks        | Detergents / cleansing products       | Steel beds                  |
| Linen & hospital clothing                                       | Medical supplies    | Dispensers (water, soap & sanitisers) | Toilet paper                |
| Plastic bottling & moulding                                     | Matresses & sponges | Disposable caps                       | Alcohol-based wipes         |
